RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

Meaning of the risk and reward indicator

The risk indicator aims to provide you a measure of the price movement of the shares. This category 4 means that the share price has a average price movement and therefore the risk of loss as well as the expected reward can be medium. The lowest category does not mean a "risk free" investment.

Historical data may not be a reliable indication for the future. The risk indicator shown is not guaranteed and may change over time. There is no capital guarantee or protection on the value of the Sub-Fund.

Reason why the Sub-Fund is classified in this risk category

The fund invests primarily in shares. Opportunities for gains are maintained by dynamically selecting the most promising markets. Risks are reduced by broadly diversifying investments in other funds.

The following risks may not be fully captured by the risk indicator and may be materially relevant for this Sub-Fund:

Management risk: The risk that portfolio management techniques that have worked well in normal market conditions prove ineffective during unusual conditions.

Liquidity risk: The risk that one or more of the funds investments could become hard to value, or to sell at a desired time and price.

Derivatives risk: The risk that certain derivatives could behave unexpectedly or could expose the fund to losses that are significantly greater than the cost of the derivative.

Operational risk: The risk of failures or delays in operational processes may negatively affect the Fund.

Custody Risk: The custody of assets, particularly abroad, may involve a risk of loss arising from the possibility that the custodian or subcustodian becomes insolvent, breach duties of due care or engages in abusive conduct.

Further investment risks are set out in the risk section of the prospectus.
